« Sutor, ne supra crepidam »*

or how to ward off both ultracrepidarianism and arbitrary prognostications! !

Because no opinion is valid without knowledge,
for lack of being able to go in situ,
here is a small press review,
delivered to the good use and to the fairplay spirits !

For Le Monde subscribers, we recommend the well-illustrated article by Isabelle Renier, an enlightened writer on the subject: le papier bien illustré d'Isabelle Renier! The paper was written just before the inauguration in February 2024.

Ps: the articles/videos are in French!

And to find out more about your favorite media :

The base, the Athletes' Village explained in 2 minutes : Le Village des athlètes expliqué en 2 min !

The site visit: visite de chantier du village des athlètes, a highly instructive and comprehensive overview of the project's construction - French Landscape Federation. This long video (1h15) allows us, among other things, to imagine the landscape that we don't yet see after delivery in spring 2024.

In brief, and still in images, the urban, environmental & innovation goals: les objectifs urbains, environnementaux et les innovations par Egis / Les coulisses du projet par la presse écrite in Le Point / key handover: La remise des clefs / To discover: Découvrir le village Olympique by La Nouvelle République / Contribute to athlete performance: Participer à la performance des athlètes by les Echos / A visit to the heart: Une visite au coeur du village olympique by La Croix / Les Quinconces by ArchiCréé with an exhaustive look at the project management / A village stitched to the city: Un village cousu à la ville by le Moniteur / Paris 2024: surface area, housing, delegations...  Behaviour consisting of giving one's opinion on subjects about which one has no competence.

 It's a pity, though, that all the images on the web weren't more carefully selected! Because without the vegetation and the sun, it's hard to imagine anything other than a stereotyped alignment, isn't it! The proof is in the reaction of public opinion. They still have time to qualify their remarks. And indeed, let's fervently hope that the economic climate will transform this legacy in a decidedly favourable way!

By the way, they've already told us about the village of the future : ils ont déjà raconté le village du futur !
